Location: 14300 blk San Pedro

Officers were dispatched to a local bank for a possible hostage situation. According to the caller, he had been taken to the bank to withdraw money against his will. The caller reported there was a male outside with a gun that had driven him to the bank. Officers arrived and located a male matching the description provided by the caller sitting in a car outside of the bank. Officers had the male exit the vehicle at gun point due to the report that he had a gun himself. The male complied and was detained with handcuffs without incident. The vehicle was checked and officers did not discover any firearms. The caller reported he had gotten involved with a bad group of people. He reported he had been offered crack cocaine and was unable to pay the suppliers. The suppliers demanded payment which the caller did not have. He was driven to a bank where he did not have an account. While inside the bank, he had told the bank teller he was scared of the man that had driven him there. The man that had driven him to the bank was found to have outstanding warrants. The caller had gone to the bank voluntarily and was not forced to do anything. No crime had been committed. The man with the warrants was arrested and the caller was given a courtesy ride to a local store.
