While doing a business patrol, an officer found two people going through the dumpster behind an electronics store. The officer made contact with both males and they were identified. A computer return on male #1 found he had an expired/suspended driver's license. The return on male #2 showed him to have an active warrant for Criminal Trespass-Habitation/Shelter. The officer verified the warrant through dispatch and confirmed the warrant was active. Male #2 was taken into custody at that time. He was transported to city hall for processing and was then taken to the Magistrates Office to be booked on the warrant. A second officer stood by with male #1 until a licensed driver arrived to pick up male #1 and his vehicle.

An officer received a call from a business owner who reported an accident in front of the business. The caller reported the vehicle had pulled into the parking lot and was leaking gasoline. Upon arrival, the officer observed a red pickup truck with significant damage, parked in the middle of the parking lot with one of the doors open. The officer did not locate anyone around the vehicle. The officer checked inside the vehicle and observed a large amount of property bearing several different names. Due to a large amount of gasoline leaking from the vehicle, the officer requested the fire department. SAPD arrived and told the HCV officer that the vehicle was involved in a hit and run and the occupants had completed several vehicle burglaries in the area. Witnesses at the location reported a man, woman, and child had gotten out of the vehicle and were asking for a ride to the hospital. It was unknown if they received a ride. The officer assisted SAPD and SAFD until no longer needed. The officer then resumed patrol.

While on routine patrol, an officer noticed a residence had numerous rolls of toilet paper strung throughout the yard and trees. The officer made contact with the homeowner, who was not aware of what had occurred on his property. The resident stated that he wanted to file a report. The man's wife approached the officer and related she had seen the toilet paper all over the yard when she returned home from a football game. She was unsure of the time she left the residence, making a time frame that the incident occurred difficult to determine. The female further stated that she had not informed her husband of what had occurred upon her arrival, due to him being asleep. The resident related that this has occurred in the past and believes that the perpetrator(s) may be high school friends of his child. The officer resumed normal patrol.
